Dear Course Participant

Welcome and thank you for choosing to attend the World Adventure Consultants Avalanche Awareness session.

As outlined in the following pages the course will start at 1830 the evening of January 8, 2010, location to be announced by the Whitecourt Trailblazers Sow mobile Club.

This evening session is a mandatory attendance session. You will not be allowed to take part in the field training on the following day(s) if not in attendance. The field day session will be a 4 hr session. Scheduling of the field session has been left up to the Whitecourt Trailblazers club and will be posted at the evening session.

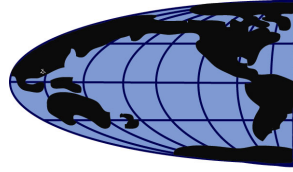

For the field day you will be expected to be on site and ready with your gear at the start of the posted time.

The mandatory gear for this field session will be:

- Avalanche transceiver with fresh batteries
- Avalanche probe
- Avalanche Shovel

For this course there will be some suggested gear:

- Warm Jacket for standing around in
- Toque. You don't want to be standing in your sledding helmet for 4 hours
- Snacks and warm drinks for break time
- Warm boots and gloves. Once again you will be in the field and not have the conveyance of on sled warmers.
